

Friends of the Library Sponsors Upcoming Programs

April 13, 5:30pm

Speaker Abby Burnett, "Tombstones That Tell Tales". See page 5.

May 4, 5:30pm

Dr. Craig R. Andersen, Associate Professor and Vegetable Extension Specialist, Horticulture Department at the University of Arkansas, will speak on "Insect Prevention Management/Organic Practices for the Home Garden." For the past five years Dr. Andersen has helped to further the fresh market vegetable industry in Arkansas. This has been accomplished by working with county agents and directly with producers to supply locally grown vegetables through Farmer's Markets.

June 8, 5:00pm

Herb Culver will present a program on "How I Garden." A panel discussion will follow with Herb and Mel and Darla Harness taking questions from the audience. Herb is the owner of Bean Mountain Farms in Deer, AR, a bedding plant nursery specializing in open-pollinated and heirloom varieties of vegetables, herbs, and flowers. An environmental activist, Herb has gardened organically for 30 years and saves seeds for many of the varieties grown at Bean Mountain. (Note the early start time.)
