Where Madness Reigns: The Art of Gris Grimly
by Gris Grimly

Into warped/horror/macabre/black humor-type art? Then this is right up your alley. I draw similar type art and find Gris Grimly, a.k.a. the Mad Creator, an inspiration. If you like the art of Tim Burton or Edward Gorey, then this book is definitely for you. It mainly consists of his masterful use of character-driven ink and watercolor and features mixed multimedia and collage illustrations as well.

Walking the Walk (w/DVD): Getting Fit with Faith
By Leslie Sansone

I chose this particular book because I love walking and I think this will be a great addition to the library. My hope is that it will not only be instructional, but inspirational as well.

Meanwhile....A Biography of Milton Caniff, Creator of Terry and the Pirates and Steve Canyon
by David Michaelis

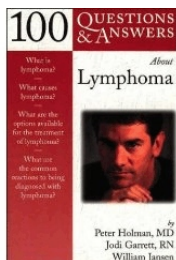

Last year's David Michaelis biography of Schulz and Peanuts piqued my interest in the lives of cartoonists. As a kid, I had a Steve Canyon coloring book, so I have a personal knowledge of Caniff's stark, detailed style.

100 Questions & Answers About Lymphoma
by Peter Holman, M.D.

I chose this book in honor of my mother.

The Complete Book of Baby Names
by Lesley Bolton

I am very fascinated by what people's names mean, symbolize, and where they originate. I believe you learn more about yourself when you understand how your name came into existence. This book will be a great addition to our library's collection.
