

Thanks to Walmart FOL Expands Day Care Outreach

by George Cline

FOL members continue reading at day care facilities and maintaining small collections of books at OUR and Head Start facilities for faculty and guests to read to the students. In addition, a pilot project which provided books for check out was initiated. This project has been successful with minimal inventory shrinkage and considerable usage.

A grant from Walmart allowed FOL to buy additional books selected by the Boone County Library children's librarian. Those additional books have allowed us to expand and refresh the day school collections with more and newer books. A check out count is underway which will indicate the efficacy of the project.

Nancy Loveland reading to children at Valley Springs.

Bookplate showing WalMart as benefactor of book.

George Cline reading to children at O.U.R. managed by LaRue Payne.

