Friends of the Library Spring Book Sale

By Book Sleuths Beth, Mary, and Shirley

Spring is upon us. Are you ready for gardening ideas? Do you want to freshen up your house? Are you ready for some lighter menus? Come check out our Spring Sale books for ideas to get you started. In the spring, our thoughts may lightly turn to love. If so, check out our large selection of fiction which will include some romance novels.

Our Book Sale will be April 17, 18, and 19, during National Library Week. It is not only a great time to get good reading material, but also to see what our library has to offer.

The Book Sleuths have spent winter Mondays getting books ready for the Spring Book Sale. We thank those who donated many wonderful books. Any time of the year, your donations are welcome.

We have books on many subjects - from animals to war history, Arkansas and the Ozarks, classics, cookbooks, crafts, health, inspirational, reference, videos, nature, and great fiction. A large selection of paperbacks will be offered at special prices.

Among some of the very special books are two volumes of Lincoln, The Prairie Years, by Carl Sandburg, and four volumes of Lincoln, The War Years, also by Carl Sandburg.

There are several children's collectible books, including a Mother Goose ABC book, Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates, Once upon a Time Picture Book, Birds Pictures and Stories, 16 Ready to Play Games, and On the Railroad.

And, if you love mathematics, we have a super collection that includes Formulas and Theorems in Mathematics by G. S. Carr, volumes of number theory, geometry, theory of equations, Mathematics in Civilization by Koff and Wells, several soft cover books of math puzzles, along with others.

You can see some of the books in the library display cases beginning April 1st. Most of our display books and some of the mathematics books are listed in this Bookplate on pages 4 and 5. We will be calling on volunteers to help with the sale.
