At the Spring Sale:

One Thousand and One Riddles

Do you know the oldest riddle on record? What animal in the morning walks upon four feet, at noon upon two, and in the evening upon three? Man, because in the morning of life, or infancy, he crawls upon his hands and feet; at noon, or manhood, he walks upon his two legs; and in the evening, or old age, he supports himself with a stick. And a thousand more riddles, just for fun.

Garden Sass: A Catalog of Arkansas Folkways

Did you know that old bed springs have been used as television antennas? How did the settlers preserve their fruits and vegetables? Old customs, games, songs, recipes, quilting bees, and many photographs fill this book of the not so long ago.
