

Friends of the Library Sponsors Upcoming Programs

June 8

5:00 p.m.

Herb Culver will speak on "How I Garden." After his presentation, he will be joined by Mel and Darla Harness for a panel discussion. Herb is the owner of Bean Mountain Farms near Deer, AR. It is a bedding plant nursery specializing in open-pollinated and heirloom varieties of vegetables, herbs, and flowers. Mel was in the first Boone County Master Gardener class. He currently gardens organically, has a home orchard and does "no-till" gardening. Darla's specialties are canning, food preparation and herb gardening.

Herb Culver

July 22

5:00 p.m.

Mike McCarthy of St. Charles, Missouri will be featured in a book signing and sales of his book "Historic Ozark Mills." His presentation will feature his book.

September 14

5:30 p.m.

Phyllis Pokorny will present "The Story of American Quilts." Phyllis is a local quilter and a member of several quilt guilds and societies. She also judges quilts at county fairs and quilt shows and gives quilt demonstrations and lectures to various quilt organizations and Extension Homemaker's Club quilters.

November 2 & 9

5:30 p.m.

Mike McClintock, Boone County Extension Agent, will give back-to-back presentations on "The VERY Small Farmlet."

Your Book Donations at Work

New books from FOL

Your book donations are the life blood of the annual sales sponsored by the Friends of the Library. The spring and fall sales provide most of the income needed to buy non-fiction titles to upgrade and enhance the current library collection. As you enter the library, look to the alcove on the right and see the books purchased last year to honor patrons who purchased special memberships, made generous monetary donations or volunteered their time with daycare reading, homebound delivery or processing books, as well as those who came and helped with the sales.

New floor covering for tots area provided by FOL